ASCCA is more than just a membership; it's a strategic tool in my business arsenal.

ABOUT US

In the fast-paced world of auto repair, we understand the challenges you face. Are you burning the midnight oil, struggling to keep up with ever-evolving regulations, or finding it tough to maintain profitability? It's time to equip yourself with the essential tool for success: ASCCA.

The Automotive Service Councils of California has been the foremost advocate for the aftermarket auto repair industry since its inception. Whether you have been a member for a long time or just getting started, ASCCA has your back.

WANT TO KNOW MORE?

ASCCA has been championing the independent shop owners in California since 1940. As we step into a new era, the question isn't, "Can I afford membership?" but rather, "Can I afford not to be part of ASCCA for my business?"

Join the forward-thinking shop owners of San Jose Chapter 42 of the Automotive Service Councils of California and be part of a dynamic trade association shaping the future of auto repair in Santa Clara, Monterey, Santa Cruz, San Benito, and Palo Alto counties.

SOME OF OUR IMPACTS

ASCCA has a rich history of advocating for the auto repair industry. From influencing legislation to fighting damaging lawsuits, ASCCA is at the forefront of driving positive change. ASCCA members have successfully, through grassroots campaigns, been an active voice for the future of auto repair in California. Some of our key impacts include:

- Simplifying modern vehicle diagnostics by being a part of the design team that created the OBDII connector.
- Successfully fought for and won legislation (SB1146) that created the first "Right to Repair" act in the nation.
- Successfully fought for the elimination of damaging, frivolous lawsuits (Trevor Law Group) that tried to extort money from automotive shop owners.
- ASCCA successfully opposed legislation (AB 2454) that would have created a state mandated "grading system," similar to restaurants.

- ASCCA members fought and defeated SB 750 – the key code lock out bill that would have excluded independent shop owners' access to vehicle communications.
- ASCCA fought for and defeated legislation (SB 993), which would have extended sales taxes to vehicle repair labor services, and unnecessarily increased repair costs.
- ASCCA defeated legislation (AB 2825), which would have treated auto repair businesses as "debt collectors." making all communications with customers subject to fines and frivolous lawsuits.
- ASCCA opposed and defeated legislation (AB 755), which would have increased the current $1.75 tire tax fee to $3.25 per tire.
- ASCCA helped pass legislation (AB 3141) to include all unlicensed automotive maintenance service providers and other previously exempted repairers under BAR jurisdiction to create a level playing field.
- ASCCA helped pass BAR regulations to allow auto repair shops to provide customers with electronic estimates and authorizations (e.g. text messages).
